JERRY BUSS

Jerry Buss purchased the Los Angeles Lakers, the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League, The Forum and a 13,000-acre Kern County ranch in June, 1979, for $67.5 million in what was then the largest sports transaction of all-time.

In the 12 years of his ownership, the Lakers have enjoyed an era of success the rival of any in professional sports. In this span, the Lakers have won five world championships and reached the world-championship round nine times. They have won 72 percent of their games, averaging almost 60 wins a season. They have won 29 of 36 playoff series and have averaged 70 wins per year, including playoffs.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a Bachelor's degree, Buss took his Ph.D. in Chemistry from the University of Southern California. After a brief career in the aerospace industry, Buss and Frank Mariani, an aerospace engineer, used their scientific training and facility with mathematics to launch a career in real estate. They parlayed an original $1,000 investment in a West Los Angeles apartment building into what became a multi-hundred-million-dollar real estate business at its height.

However, since his emergence into major league sports, Buss has reduced his involvement in real estate and has increased his activity in sports. He has initiated many innovative changes in the marketing of the Lakers and other events at The Forum, including a major advertising agreement with Great Western Bank that has resulted in the facility being renamed The Great Western Forum.

In 1985 Buss and Bill Daniels launched Prime Ticket Network, now one of the premier regional sports cable television networks.

Buss' two daughters are actively involved in his sports enterprises. Jeanie heads the tennis and volleyball operations and Janie is Director of Special Events.

Buss' blue-jean lifestyle is as casual as his business operations are mathematically precise. He jumps into both with great enthusiasm, as he does his involvement in community work. Buss devotes a large measure of his time and resources to many community-serving causes. He is most diligent in his support of education and of the disadvantaged young and elderly.

JERRY WEST

In Jerry West's nine years as the Lakers' General Manager, the club has won three NBA titles while averaging better than 60 wins per season. But success within the marriage of Jerry West and the Lakers is nothing new: since the club moved to Los Angeles in 1960 it has participated in the playoffs in all but two seasons — and those were the only two seasons (1974-75 and 1975-76) in which he was not affiliated with the club.

West is one of the greatest players in NBA history after a 14-year career, all with the Lakers. When he retired after the 1973-74 campaign he was the third player to score 25,000 points. His 27.0 scoring average is fourth-best in NBA history and he ranks among the all-time leaders in several other categories.

He was the all-time NBA playoff leader in points (4,457) and assists (970) until Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Earvin Johnson, respectively, passed him. His 29.1 scoring average in the playoffs is still among the highest in NBA history and he remains the Lakers' all-time scoring leader.

Among West's most memorable accomplishments were compiling a 40.6 scoring average during the 1965 playoffs and sinking a 60-foot shot to send Game 3 of the 1970 Championship Series against the New York Knicks into overtime.

He was selected to the All-NBA first team 10 times and the All-Defensive first team four times. He was selected to play in the All-Star Game for 13 consecutive seasons and was MVP of the 1972 classic at The Forum, and NBA Playoff MVP in 1969 despite playing for the losing team. West was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979 and was named to the NBA's 35th Anniversary team in 1980.

He retired prior to the 1974-75 season and returned to the Lakers for the 1976-77 season, replacing Bill Sharman as the club's head coach. He posted a 145-101 record and his clubs reached the playoffs in each of his three seasons at the helm. His first club finished with a 53-29 record, the best in the NBA that season.

Following the 1978-79 campaign West served the Lakers for three years as a special consultant, with the primary responsibility of scouting college players. Prior to the 1982-83 season he was elevated to his present position as the club's General Manager, where he oversees the day-to-day operation of the club and all player personnel decisions.

West attended West Virginia University, where he was a two-time All-America before becoming the Lakers' first pick in the 1960 college draft. Before entering the NBA Jerry served as co-captain of the gold-medal winning U.S. Olympic basketball team in Rome in 1960, a squad generally touted as the greatest in Olympic history. He was also a member of the victorious U.S. squad in the 1958 Pan American Games.

Born on May 28, 1938 in Chelyan, West Virginia, West first drew national attention as a high school star. As a senior at East Bank High School he led his team to the state title and became the first player in the state's history to score over 900 points in a season, averaging 32.2.

Jerry and his wife, Karen, reside in Bel Air with their sons, Ryan and Jonathan. Jerry has three other sons, David, Mark and Michael, from a previous marriage.

MITCHELL KUPCHAK

Mitch Kupchak is set to begin his sixth season as the Lakers' Assistant General Manager. Among the areas that he oversees are the club's pre-season schedule, Summer League team and training camp. He also assists in the club's scouting of college players and works with Jerry West in the day-to-day management of the club.

Mitch was a first-round draft choice of the Washington Bullets in 1976 and spent his first five seasons there. He was a major contributor off the bench to the Bullets' NBA Championship club in 1978, and remains one of 15 players in NBA history to have played on Championship clubs with two different franchises.

In August, 1981, he was acquired by the Lakers. Mitch was a starter for the Lakers for the first 26 games of the 1981-82 campaign, averaging 14.3 points and 8.1 rebounds, before suffering multiple injuries to his left knee which required two surgeries. It was feared, even expected, that he would never play again, but Mitch proved the doctors wrong by returning to the Lakers in November, 1983 after undergoing daily therapy for 16 months and was a major contributor off the bench as the club captured the 1985 title.

Prior to the start of the 1986-87 campaign, after another lengthy rehabilitation following arthroscopic knee surgery, Mitch assumed his present position and retired as a player.

When Mitch signed to play with the Lakers in the summer of 1981, one of the provisions in his long-term contract was that he would continue to work for Laker owner Dr. Jerry Buss in some capacity following his retirement from playing. In preparation for that career move, he studied for an MBA degree at UCLA during his spare time, and received that degree in February, 1987.

Mitch was born in Hicksville, New York on May 24, 1954. He was an All-American at the University of North Carolina in 1976, and then was named the ACC's Player of the Year as a senior. He was the starting center on the gold-medal winning U.S. team in the 1976 Olympics.

Mitch is single and resides in Brentwood.

MICHAEL COOPER

After a 12-year NBA career which saw him become one of the most popular Laker players of the 1980's, Michael Cooper spent last year in Italy, playing for Il Messagero Roma. Cooper had a great year, averaging 16 points and 6 rebounds per game, and was named MVP of the Italian All-Star game.

Now he's a member of the Lakers family again. But instead of spending his time in the backcourt, he'll be spending it in the front office, as Special Assistant to General Manager Jerry West.

Cooper's duties will include scouting college and CBA players, video work, participation in summer league activities, and assisting the coaching staff in practices and evaluation of talent. Cooper will also be involved in community service work, where he will represent the Lakers as a guest speaker at civic and charity events. In addition, he will be involved in sponsor relations and marketing activities for the club.

Cooper first came to the Lakers in 1978 as a third-round draft choice from the University of New Mexico, where he earned All-American honors as a senior. Prior to that he played two years at Pasadena City College.

Cooper was a vital member of five World Championship teams with the Lakers (1980, 82, 85, 87, 88) and retired after the 1990 season ranked near the top in a number of Lakers all-time statistical categories: 1st in 3FGs; 3rd in games; 5th in minutes; 2nd in steals; 3rd in blocked shots; 4th in assists; 5th in defensive rebounds; 7th in offensive rebounds; and 6th in FT%. He also retired as the NBA's all-time playoff leader in 3FGs made and attempted and 4th in NBA playoff games played. Cooper was best known for his tenacious defense however. He was voted onto the NBA All-Defensive Team eight times and named the NBA's Defensive Player of the Year in 1987.

Cooper runs an annual summer camp for children in his hometown of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and his involvement in charity work goes back to his rookie year as a player. His efforts in community and charity work were so great, in fact, that he was honored in 1986 as co-recipient (with Rory Sparrow) of the NBA's J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award.

Michael and his wife, Wanda, live in Los Angeles with their daughter, Simone, and their sons, Michael Jr. and Miles.

BILL SHARMAN

Currently in his second season as a special consultant, Bill Sharman served as the Lakers' coach, general manager and president from 1971 until he retired in 1988 after the Lakers had presented him with his 12th pro basketball championship. The dozen championships have been spread over four teams in three leagues from four different perspectives.

Four came when he was a player for the Boston Celtics; three came as a coach: 1962 with the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League; 1971 with the Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association and in 1972 as coach of the Lakers, the NBA's all-time winningest team. His remaining five rings came as GM and President of the Lakers in the 1980's.

Perhaps the greatest shooter of his day, Sharman was the first guard to shoot .400 from the floor and his .884 career free throw percentage is still among the league's all-time leaders. He was named to the All-NBA team seven times in his 10 year playing career and was an eight-time All-Star. He was elected into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1974.

Bill and his wife Joyce live in Marina del Rey. He has two daughters, Nancy and Janice, and two sons, Tom and Jerry, from a previous marriage.

MIKE DUNLEAVY

In his first year as an NBA head coach, Mike Dunleavy surpassed all expectations (except possibly his own) by leading the Lakers to the 1991 Western Conference championship and a trip to the NBA Finals.

The team got off to a slow start while adjusting to new players and Dunleavy's new system. However, once in synch, the Lakers played outstanding all-around basketball, winning a league season-high 16 consecutive games in January and early February. This earned Dunleavy the Digital NBA Coach of the Month award for January, in only his third month as an NBA head coach.

Dunleavy's coaching abilities were at their peak during the playoffs, as his brilliant strategies and personnel decisions produced series victories over Houston (3-0), Golden State (4-1) and Portland (4-2).

As a player, Dunleavy averaged double-figure scoring in each of his four seasons at the University of South Carolina. In 1976, he was drafted in the sixth round (99th overall) by the Philadelphia 76ers, for whom he played for parts of two seasons.

In 1977, Mike served as player-coach of the Carolina Lightning in the short-lived All-American Basketball Alliance. He finished the 1977-78 NBA season in Houston and remained with the club through the 1981-82 season.

After a year with San Antonio, he left for New York, working for Merrill Lynch on Wall Street.

He returned to the NBA the following season when an injury-depleted Milwaukee Bucks team came calling. In the final 17 regular-season games and 15 playoff games, he averaged a career-high 11.2 points.

Nineteen games into the 1984-85 season, Dunleavy suffered a serious back injury when an airplane jerked suddenly while taxiing. That brought him into coaching, and in 1987 he joined the Bucks as a bench assistant.

In his last two seasons in Milwaukee, he played and worked with the players in more than practice. Whenever the injury bug bit the Bucks particularly hard, the club simply signed Mike to a series of 10-day contracts: He played in two games in 1988-89 and five in 1989-90.

Mike was born on March 21, 1954 in Brooklyn, N.Y. and attended Nazareth High School there. Mike is an avid tennis player. He, his wife Emily, and three sons, Michael, William Baker, and James, live in Santa Monica.

BILL BERTKA

One of the most experienced basketball men in the NBA, Bill Bertka has pretty much seen it all in his 40-plus years as a player, coach and administrator.

The Lakers' veteran assistant coach played his college ball at Kent State University and played in the old National Industrial Basketball League before embarking on careers in coaching and scouting.

He served as head coach at Hancock College in Santa Maria from 1954-57, leading the team to a 42-game winning streak, a 97-13 overall record and a Junior College State Championship in 1957. He returned to his alma mater, where he served as head coach for four years and helped elevate Kent State's program to the major-college level.

Bill, 64, is actually in his second tour of duty with the Lakers. He originally joined the club in 1968, serving as the club's chief scout and director of player personnel for six years. He then joined the New Orleans Jazz when the club was formed in 1974 and served that club in a variety of roles, including General Manager, director of player personnel and assistant coach and was the primary architect for the franchise during the first eight years of the team's existence, before rejoining the Lakers early in the 1981-82 campaign.

He is well known as the founder of Bertka Views, one of the most successful college scouting services in the country, now operated by his wife, Solveig. Many of the nation's premier college basketball programs utilize Bertka Views as their sole scouting service.

Bill had the double distinction in 1989 of being inducted into a Hall of Fame in each of his hometowns. In May, he was inducted into the Santa Barbara Sports Hall of Fame, where he makes his present home. In October, he was inducted into the Summit County (Ohio) Sports Hall of Fame, where he grew up.

Bill and Solveig have two daughters, Britt and Kris, and make their home in Santa Barbara.

RANDY PFUND

Despite speculation early in the summer that he would rejoin ex-Lakers coach Pat Riley with the New York Knicks, Randy Pfund signed a new contract during the off-season to remain with the Lakers.

Generally regarded as one of the bright, young assistant coaches in the NBA, Randy has come a long way since joining the Lakers' staff six years ago.

Pfund was working as a high school teacher and coach in Illinois for two years before he quit and took a gamble in an attempt to get a college coaching position. Randy talked his way into a job as an unpaid voluntary assistant at Westmont College in Santa Barbara, where he remained for eight years. Eventually, he began to get paid for his efforts, and also took over as director of the school's booster organization.

While at Westmont he became familiar with another Santa Barbara resident involved with coaching, Bill Bertka, and when Dave Wohl resigned as Laker assistant to become head coach of the New Jersey Nets prior to the 1985-86 season, then Laker coach Pat Riley selected Randy as his successor, citing his scouting and administrative experience as major factors in the decision.

Randy grew up in Wheaton, Illinois, and starred in basketball and football at North High School there. He later earned honorable mention All-American honors in basketball at Wheaton College, where his father, Lee, was head coach.

Randy, 39, is single and lives in Santa Monica.

JIM EYEN

Jim Eyen, 35, is entering his third season with the Los Angeles Lakers. In addition to his coaching duties, Jim is responsible for the team's advance scouting and video coordination.

Eyen was in his fifth season as an assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of California at Santa Barbara, when the Los Angeles Clippers asked him to join their bench in January of 1989. Prior to returning to UCSB in 1984, Jim served as head coach at Dos Pueblos High School for two years (1982-84), and as an assistant at Santa Barbara City College for three seasons (1979-82).

Raised in Oakland, California playing basketball and baseball, Eyen attended USCB where he played basketball for one year before opting to pursue baseball. He received his B.A. in Communication Studies from UCSB in 1980, and an M.A. in education from Azusa Pacific in 1984.

He continues the pipe-line from Santa Barbara to the Laker bench, joining fellow assistants Bill Bertka and Randy Pfund with Santa Barbara connections.

Jim and his wife Britt, who were married in August, make their home in Playa del Rey.

GENE TORMOHLEN

Gene Tormohlen would probably have a difficult time getting into a Laker game without a ticket, yet he's one of the people most responsible for the Lakers' ability to remain as a threat for the NBA title throughout the past decade. The Lakers' scout lives in Georgia and may not have a familiar face, but his input has been a vital contribution to the club over the past eight seasons.

This will be the 24th season in which "Bumper", as he is know throughout the NBA, will be scouting. He served as an assistant coach and scout with ther Atlanta Hawks for eight years and as a scout with the Chicago Bulls for seven seasons before joining the Laker staff prior to the 1983-84 campaign.

The 6-9 native of Holland, Indiana was a two-time All-SEC performer at Tennessee, serving as captain of the Vols as a senior. Gene played for the St. Louis Hawks for six years, retiring as the club moved to Atlanta in 1968.

He also played with the amateur Cleveland Pipers of the National Industrial Basketball League, leading the team to league and AAU titles in his second season, and played with the Kansas City Steers of the American Basketball League for two years.

Tormohlen works out of his home in Lawrenceville, Georgia, where he lives with his wife, Julie, and two children, Gina and Tommy.

RONNIE LESTER

Beginning his fourth season as a scout for the Lakers, Ronnie Lester will continue to work out of his home in Skokie, Illinois, where he is responsible for scouting collegiate talent primarily in the midwest part of the country.

Lester earned All-America honors at the University of Iowa, where they retired his uniform after he became the school's all-time leader in scoring and assists. He was a first-round draft choice of the Portland Trail Blazers in 1980, 10th overall, and was traded on draft day to his hometown Chicago Bulls. He played with the Bulls for four years, enjoying his best season in 1981-82 when he averaged 11.6 points and 4.8 assists and started 74 of his 75 outings.

Lester spent the final two seasons of his injury-plagued, six-year, NBA career with the Lakers. He signed as a free agent with the club on November 29, 1984 and appeared in 59 regular-season and nine playoff games during his two seasons with the Lakers, and was a member of the club's 1985 NBA Championship club.

Ronnie and his girlfriend Lois had their first child, Alexis, last March 29th.

GARY VITTI

Gary Vitti, who enters his eighth season as the Lakers' trainer, monitors the club throughout the year, not just the season, using state-of-the-art methods in conditioning, dieting, stretching and testing.

While the 37-year-old is responsible for the care, prevention and treatment of injuries to Laker players, his responsibilities don't end there. Among his other duties are overseeing the club's transportation and accomodations on the road as well as arranging the team's practice schedule.

Gary grew up in Stamford, Connecticut. He earned a B.S. from Southern Conneciticut State in 1976 and an M.S. in sports medicine from the University of Utah in 1982.

In addition to studying at the University of Utah he spent two years as a trainer there as well as two years as an assistant trainer with the Utah Jazz. He then served as the head athletic trainer at the University of Portland for two years before joining the Lakers prior to the 1984-85 season.

Vitti has supervised physiological profile studies published in English and Japanese and has written a monthly column for "Sports Medicine Digest." He also wrote a sports medicine column for the Los Angeles Times syndicate last year and produced a conditioning video this summer called "Training for Excellence". Vitti was named the 1991 Trainer of the Year by the National Basketball Trainers Association.

He and his wife Chris live in Manhattan Beach with their two daughters, Rachel and Emilia.

CHICK HEARN

Chick Hearn, the only play-by-play man the club has had since moving to Los Angeles, enters his 32nd season providing his colorful "words-eye-view." But don't plan any Farewell Tours just yet. Chick enters this season with a string of 2,437 consecutive broadcasts (regular-season and play-offs) and last missed a Laker game in Nov. 1965.

The Lakers moved to Los Angeles prior to the 1960-61 season, and did not broadcast games on radio that year until the playoffs. Chick was behind the microphone for that first post-season broadcast, and he's been there ever since.

Born Francis Dayle Hearn, Chick grew up in Aurora, Illinois and attended Bradley University. He was given the nickname "Chick" when, as an AAU basketball player, he was handed a box of sneakers only to be surprised to find a chicken inside.

Chick came to Los Angeles in 1956 to broadcast USC football and basketball and later did a nightly radio sports show that earned him two Emmy Awards in the 1960's. He joined the Lakers shortly thereafter.

Although best-known for his work with the Lakers, Chick has broadcast an assortment of sporting events, including NCAA football, UNLV basketball, PGA golf tournaments, the first Ali-Frazier fight, the Rose Bowl, the East-West Shrine football game, celebrity tennis and Bowling for Dollars. In addition to Laker radio/tv simulcasts Chick also broadcasts Forum boxing on the Prime Ticket Network.

Chick's near-non-stop work schedule also includes numerous commercials and movie spots and he's a popular after-dinner speaker. Six years ago he recorded a hit rap record, "Wrap Around", and he also helped create "Chick's Dream Game" fantasy tapes. He has received a Golden Mike Award and has twice been named National Sportscaster of the Year.

Among Chick's other career highlights are "Chick Hearn Night", which the team held in his honor on March 28, 1981 and the rainy day in the fall of 1986, when a star bearing his name was installed on Hollywood Boulevard's "Walk of Fame."

Chick and his wife, Marge, live in Encino.

STU LANTZ

As he did as a backcourt partner of former NBA great "Pistol" Pete Maravich, Lakers commentator Stu Lantz finds himself working alongside a legend — play-by-play man Chick Hearn.

As Stu begins his fifth year alongside Hearn, his insight has been a valuable part of Laker broadcasts. Of course, Stu and the Lakers are not a new partnership, either, as he played in 109 regular-season games for the Lakers between 1974-77.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1968, he was a third-round draft choice of the San Diego Rockets. Stu spent his first three seasons in San Diego and enjoyed his best pro campaign in 1970-71, his third season, when he averaged 20.6 points per game for the Rockets.

He also played for the Detroit Pistons and New Orleans Jazz before being traded to the Lakers in December, 1974, where he remained through the 1976-77 campaign. He sat out that entire final season due to a back injury before retiring. Following his premature retirement, Stu immediately embarked on a broadcasting career. He served as a commentator for the San Diego Clippers, San Diego State University, UNLV, and CBS.

Stu also stays close to the game in the summer by assisting in the operation of the renowned Pete Newell Big-Man Camp, as well as a shooting camp in the San Diego area.

Stu and his wife, Linda, live in San Diego with their three children, Todd, Kristin and Shane.

If the last three NBA seasons have left you feeling dizzy, the ride is over. The rotating divisional system employed by the league since the 1988-89 season has wound down, leaving the NBA's 27-team field aligned in natural geographic divisions for this season. Orlando's move from the Midwest to the Atlantic marks the only change this season - and the last in the league for the foreseeable future:

ATLANTIC	CENTRAL	MIDWEST	PACIFIC
Boston Celtics	Atlanta Hawks	Dallas Mavericks	Golden State Warriors
Miami Heat	Charlotte Hornets	Denver Nuggets	Los Angeles Clippers
New Jersey Nets	Chicago Bulls	Houston Rockets	Los Angeles Lakers
New York Knicks	Cleveland Cavaliers	Minnesota Timberwolves	Phoenix Suns
Orlando Magic	Detroit Pistons	San Antonio Spurs	Portland Trail Blazers
Philadelphia 76ers	Indiana Pacers	Utah Jazz	Sacramento Kings
Washington Bullets	Milwaukee Bucks		Seattle Supersonics

In olden times in the NBA it was not unusual for an NBA team to play five and six straight days.

However, that was kid stuff compared to what the league had the Lakers do in 1960, their last year in Minneapolis.

The Lakers played 14 games in 16 days, 12 of which were on the road, including 7 road games in 7 days.

On consecutive nights they played in Minneapolis, Philadelpha, Los Angeles (two nights), New York, College Park, MD, Providence, Boston, and back to Minneapolis.

They actually won seven of the 14 games and five of the nine played on consecutive nights. But they finished the season at 25-50 and moved to Los Angeles, where they got to log a lot more air time if not so many consecutive days on the road.

EVER WONDER WHERE SHOOTING STARS GO?

For The Past Century, Many of Those Stars Have Landed in Springfield, Massachusetts!

BASKETBALL 100 1891-1991 CENTENNIAL

Since 1891, Basketball has become "The Game Played Worldwide." In less than nine years, before the turn of the century, The Game had spread from its birth in Springfield, Massachusetts, to nations all over the world.

The Basketball Hall of Fame, in the city of The Game's birth, brings a century of Basketball to life.

The Basketball Hall of Fame honors the men and women and even four teams that have brought the excitement of The Game to millions of fans throughout The Game's first century. All levels of The Game—amateur, high school, collegiate, professional, international—are featured in the Basketball Hall of Fame, a memorial to the only major sport founded in America and played in over 170 nations.

Original Basketball memorabilia, life-size photos, and participatory, state-of-the-art exhibits bring The Game to life before your eyes. You can see the actual uniforms of some of the greatest players who ever lived, or catch the action of today's game in such special presentations as "Hoopla" and "Play 52." Try your jumping abilities in the exhibit "How High Is Up?" or test your shooting talents in the popular "Shoot Out" exhibit. Highlight your visit with a trip through the time tunnel and experience some of the greatest moments in Basketball history.

Come and see a century of these spectacular moments, as well as an exciting look at today's game. Join the Hall of Fame Annual Membership for special discounts, the Hall of Fame Year Book, a quarterly Newsletter, posters, and special invitations to Basketball Hall of Fame events, including Enshrinement Ceremonies. If you'd like free information on Annual Membership or other programs, call, write, or visit.

1966—Lakers lead the NBA in scoring, averaging 119.5 ppg...West again finishes as the league's second-best scorer...Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3) in the division finals, but lose the championship to Boston (3-4) in a seventh game that Boston wins by two points, 95-93.

1967—Plagued by injuries that keep West out of the lineup for 15 games and Baylor out for 11, the Lakers slide to third place in the Western Division. Playoffs: West manages to play in only one playoff game and the Lakers bow to San Francisco (0-3) in the opening round.

1968—WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Under new coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, Lakers roll to division title despite absence of West for 31 games during regular season...Baylor leads the team in scoring, rebounding and assists...Playoffs: Lakers sweep by Chicago (4-1) and San Francisco (4-0), but lose to Boston (2-4) in championship.

1979—West completes three-year reign as coach with 47-35 record and playoff elimination by Seattle for second straight year. 1980—WORLD CHAMPIONS...McKinney falls from bicycle Nov. 8 and Paul Westhead takes over, guiding team to Lakers' second NBA championship in their 20 years in LA...Abdul-Jabbar is MVP...Lakers win final playoff game over 76ers in Philadelphia without injured Kareem, and rookie star Magic Johnson wins playoff MVP award.

POSTPONE THAT VACATION - AGAIN: The Lakers made their 15th consecutive post-season appearance last spring, the longest streak of any NBA club...the Lakers have failed to qualify for the playoffs only three years of their existence: 1958, 1975, and 1976.

PORTLAND TO HOST 1992 TOURNAMENT OF THE AMERICAS: The Tournament of the Americas will be held next June 27-July 5 in Portland's Memorial Coliseum. The Tournament, one of five Olympic qualifying zone tournaments, will determine the four countries from North, Central and South America who will earn the right to compete in the 1992 Barcelona Olympics. The Olympics are scheduled for July 26 through August 7, 1992.

THE GREAT WESTERN FORUM

. . . Home of the Lakers

Ground Breaking:	July 1, 1966	Basketball Capacity:	17,505

First Lakers Game:	December 31, 1967	Boxing:	18,780
	Lakers 147, Rockets 118	Concerts:	19,000

From its ground breaking in 1966 it was The Forum, until December of 1988 when as the result of a major advertising agreement, the home of the Los Angeles Lakers was renamed The Great Western Forum.

The Lakers have won 78 percent of their regular season and playoff games in The Forum since defeating the San Diego Rockets on December 31, 1967.

In 1988 the Lakers celebrated their 20th anniversary in their Inglewood home by winning the NBA title on The Forum floor for the second year in a row and the fourth time in club history.

NBA Championships aren't the only historic sporting events to be staged in the facility built by Jack Kent Cooke. On September 10, 1973, the largest live boxing gate ever on the West Coast, $475,640, was recorded when Muhammad Ali defeated Ken Norton. The first Forum concert paired Tony Bennett and Duke Ellington in 1968, and hundreds of major acts have followed. In 1989, Neil Diamond played to a record-breaking 10 sold-out performances in The Great Western Forum.

Another distinction came to The Forum in 1984 when it served as the venue for men's and women's basketball competition in the games of the XXIII Olympiad. In 1982 and again in 1989, the Los Angeles Kings skated to Miracles on Manchester I and II.

In 1979 Jerry Buss purchased The Forum from Cooke along with the Lakers and Kings for $67.5 million in what was then the largest sports transaction in history.

Annually more than two million spectators attend over 200 events. Since The Forum opened its doors, almost 55 million fans have been attracted to its events.

The Lakers' radio network is one of the largest in the National Basketball Association, featuring 23 stations in five states. The flagship station is KLAC-570, Los Angeles. Dr. Arthur Bartner, USC Band Director

THE LAKERS BAND

The Los Angeles Lakers Band is comprised of members of the University of Southern California Marching Band and they have been performing at Lakers games since the 1979-80 season.

The USC Band has been under the direction of Dr. Art Bartner since 1969. Under his leadership, the Trojan Marching Band has become one of the country's most visible and active collegiate band programs. To assist the dedicated student band members, the Arthur C. Bartner Endowment was established initially through a significant contribution by Lakers owner Jerry Buss. A Jerry Buss/Los Angeles Lakers Award, in the form of a scholarship, is given annually to a deserving band member.

The 25 piece Lakers Band ensemble will continue to entertain Lakers fans this season with an array of familiar tunes.

SERIES-LY SPEAKING: The Lakers swept the season series from 10 clubs last year (Charlotte 2-0, Denver 4-0, Detroit 2-0, Indiana 2-0, LA Clippers 4-0, Miami 2-0, New Jersey 2-0, Orlando 4-0, Sacramento 4-0, and Washington 2-0). One club swept the Lakers last season (Milwaukee 0-2), while Milwaukee and Portland (2-3) were the only clubs to win the series.

Centinela Hospital Medical Center
The Official Hospital of the Los Angeles Lakers

When the Lakers sought to protect the health and enhance the fitness of its players, the obvious choice for Lakers officials was to call the Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic and Centinela Hospital Medical Center.

The medical team for the Lakers is headed by orthopedists Dr. Robert Kerlan and Dr. Stephen J. Lombardo of the Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic, as well as a specialist in internal medicine, Dr. Michael Mellman. These physicians attend all Lakers games and check each player at half-time and after games. They also consult with the players regarding their physical problems and their personal fitness programs between games and during the off-season. The Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic is a world leader in the diagnosis and treatment of orthopedic and sports medicine injuries and illness, treating patients from around the globe.

Numerous professional athletic organizations have chosen Centinela Hospital as their choice for top-notch healthcare including the Los Angeles Kings, Dodgers, Rams, California Angels, the PGA TOUR and Senior PGA TOUR. In addition, Centinela Hospital was chosen as an "Official Hospital of the 1984 Olympic Games."

Centinela Hospital's dedication to the advancement of sports medicine led to the development of Centinela Hospital's Fitness Institute in Culver City and Biomechanics Laboratory - both instrumental in sports medicine research that will ultimately prolong the careers of athletes through fitness training and injury prevention.

Centinela Hospital's Fitness Institute has developed a sophisticated battery of tests to evaluate the health and fitness of professional and recreational athletes, business executives, policemen and firemen, in addition to tests for non-athletic individuals.

That is why Centinela Hospital Medical Center is the "Choice of Champions."
